Ivan Ran

Accountant at a migration agency, undergoing the CPA qualification
Sydney, Australia

Summary

My experience, both overseas and in Australia, as well as entrepreneurial spirit and understanding of accounting are some of the reasons why my interests at work are focused on solutions that optimise business processes.

The initiated projects I offered in my previous employment resulted in increased automation of business processes, improved cash flow and feedback to the management.

With a solid experience in all day-to-day and month-end accounting functions I am currently half way through my CPA study and looking forward to learning new skills.
